As early as the sixteenth century, Germans played a bluffing game called "Pochen." It later developed into a French version, called "Poque," which was eventually brought over to New Orleans and played on the riverboats that plied the Mississippi.

In the 1830s, the game was refined further and became known as Poker. During the Civil War, the key rule about drawing cards to improve one's hand was added. A variation - Stud Poker - appeared at about the same time. There are hundreds of versions of Poker, and the game is played not only in private homes, but also in countless Poker rooms at famous casinos. Poker can be played socially for pennies or matchsticks, or professionally for thousands of dollars.

There is plenty of luck in Poker, but the game requires incredibly great skill as well, and each player is the master of his own fate.

The Pack

The standard 52-card pack, sometimes with the addition of one or two jokers, is used. Poker is a one-pack game, but today, in virtually all games played in clubs and among the best players, two packs of contrasting colors are utilized in order to speed up the game. While one pack is being dealt, the other is being shuffled and prepared for the next deal. The procedure for two packs is as follows: While the deal is in progress, the previous dealer assembles all the cards from the pack he dealt, shuffles them, and places them to the left. When it is time for the next deal, the shuffled deck is passed to the next dealer. In many games in which two packs are used, the dealer's left-hand opponent, instead of the right-hand opponent, cuts the pack.

In

clubs, it is customary to change cards often and to permit any player to call for new cards whenever they wish. When new cards are introduced, both packs are replaced, and the seal and cellophane wrapping on the new decks should be broken in full view of all the players.

Card Values/scoring

While Poker is played in innumerable forms, a player who understands the values of the Poker hands and the principles of betting can play without difficulty in any type of Poker game. Except in a few versions of the game, a Poker hand consists of five cards. The various combinations of Poker hands rank from five of a kind (the highest) to no pair or nothing (the lowest):

Five of a Kind – This is the highest possible hand and can occur only in games where at least one card is wild, such as a joker, the two one-eyed jacks, or the four deuces. Examples of five of a kind would be four 10s and a wild card or two queens and three wild cards.

Straight

Flush – This is the highest possible hand when only the standard pack is used, and there are no wild cards. A straight flush consists of five cards of the same suit in sequence, such as 10, 9, 8, 7, 6 of hearts. The highest-ranking straight flush is the A, K, Q, J, and 10 of one suit, and this combination has a special name: a royal flush or a royal straight flush. The odds on being dealt this hand are 1 in almost 650,000.

Four of a Kind – This is the next highest hand, and it ranks just below a straight flush. An example is four aces or four 3s. It does not matter what the fifth, unmatched card is.

Full House – This colorful hand is made up of three cards of one rank and two cards of another rank, such as three 8s and two 4s, or three aces and two 6s.

Flush – Five cards, all of the same suit, but not all in sequence, is a flush. An example is Q, 10, 7, 6, and 2 of clubs.

Straight – Five cards in sequence, but not all of the same suit is a straight. An example is 9, 8, 7, 6, 5.

Three of a Kind –

This combination contains three cards of the same rank, and the other two cards each of a different rank, such as three jacks, a seven, and a four.

Two Pairs – This hand

contains a pair of one rank and another pair of a different rank, plus any fifth card of a different rank, such as Q, Q, 7, 7, 4.

One Pair – This frequent combination contains just one pair with the other three cards being of different rank. An example is 10, 10, K, 4, 3.

No Pair – This very common hand contains "nothing." None of the five cards pair up, nor are all five cards of the same suit or consecutive in rank. When more than one player has no pair, the hands are rated by the highest card each hand contains, so that an ace-high hand beats a king-high hand, and so on.

Two hands

that are identical, card for card, are tied since the suits have no relative rank in Poker. In such a case, the tied players split the pot. Note that if two hands contain the same high pair, then the ranking of the next card in the hands determines which one wins. For example: 9, 9, 7, 4, 2 beats 9, 9, 5, 3, 2. Likewise, two hands that have identical pairs would be decided by the fifth card. For example: Q, Q, 6, 6, J beats Q, Q, 6, 6, 10.

Betting

Betting is the key to Poker, for the game, in essence, is a game of chip management.

In the course of each Poker deal, there will be one or more betting intervals in which the players have an opportunity to bet on their hands. Minimizing losses with poor hands and maximizing winnings with good hands is the underlying skill that Poker requires.

Before the cards are even dealt, the rules of the Poker game being played may require that each player put an initial contribution, called an "ante," of one or more chips into the pot, to start it off.

Each betting interval, or round, begins when a player, in turn, makes a bet of one or more chips. Each player to the left, in turn, must either "call" that bet by putting into the pot the same number of chips; or "raise," which means that the player puts in more than enough chips to call; or "drop" ("fold"), which means that the player puts no chips in the pot, discards their hand, and is out of the betting until the next deal.

When a player drops, they lose any chips that have put into that pot. Unless a player is willing to put into the pot at least as many chips as any preceding player, they must drop out.

interval ends when the bets have been equalized - that is, when each player has either put in exactly as many chips as their predecessors or has dropped. There are usually two or more betting intervals for each Poker deal. After the final interval there is a "showdown," which means that each player who remains shows their hand face up on the table. The best Poker hand then takes the pot.

If a player makes a bet or a raise that no other player calls, they win the pot without showing their hand. Thus, in Poker, there is a bluffing element, and the best combination of cards does not always win the pot! Bluffing is one of the key reasons why Poker is so popular.

If a player wishes to remain in the game without betting, they "check." This means, in effect, that the player is making a "bet of nothing." A player may check provided no one before them in that betting interval has made a bet. If another player has bet, they cannot check but must at least call the bet or drop. A player who checks may raise a bet that has been raised by another player. This is called "sandbagging," which is allowed, unless it has been decided beforehand that this practice is forbidden. If all players check during a round of play, the betting interval is over, and all the players still in the pot remain in the game.

In each betting round, one player is designated as the first bettor, according to the rules of the game. The turn to bet always moves to the left, from player to player, and no one may check, bet, or even drop, except when it is their turn.

Knowing When to Bet

The ranking of Poker hands is based on mathematics. The less likely a player is to get a certain hand, the higher it ranks and the more likely it is to win the pot. For example, a player should not expect to be dealt a straight flush more than once in 65,000 hands, but they can expect to be dealt two pair about once in every 21 hands.

Unless a player is planning to bluff, they should not make a bet without holding a hand that they think may be the best. No Poker player can bet intelligently unless they know what constitutes a good hand, a fair hand, and a bad hand. A table of the various Poker hands and the number of combinations of each in a pack of cards is provided.

The Kitty

By unanimous or majority agreement, the players may establish a special fund called a "kitty." Usually the kitty is built up by "cutting" (taking) one low-denomination chip from each pot in which there is more than one raise. The kitty belongs to all the players equally, and it is used to pay for new decks of cards or for food and drinks. Any chips left in the kitty when the game ends are divided equally among the players who are still in the game. Unlike the rule in some other games, such as Pinochle, when a player leaves a Poker game before it ends, they are not entitled to take their share of chips that comprised part of the kitty.

Chips

Poker is almost always played with poker chips. For a game with seven or more players, there should be a supply of at least 200 chips. Usually, the white chip (or the lightest-colored chip) is the unit, or lowest-valued chip, worth whatever the minimum ante or bet is; a red chip (or some other colored chip) is worth five whites, and a blue chip (or some other dark-colored chip) is worth 10 or 20 or 25 whites or two, four or five reds. At the start of the game, each player "buys in" by purchasing a certain number of chips. All of the players usually buy in for the same amount.

Banker

One player should be designated as the banker, who keeps the stock of chips and records how many have been issued to each player or how much cash the player has paid for their chips. Players should make no private transactions or exchanges among themselves; a player with surplus chips may return them to the banker and receive credit or cash for them, while a player who wants more chips should obtain them only from the banker.

Betting Limits

There are different ways of fixing a betting limit.

Some limit is necessary; otherwise a player with a lot more money would have, or would be perceived to have, an unfair advantage. Once fixed, the limit should be unalterable throughout the game unless the players unanimously agree to change the stakes. Some popular limit systems follow:

Fixed Limit

No one may bet or raise by more than a stipulated number of chips, for example, two, or five, or 10. Usually this limit varies with the stage of the game: In Draw Poker, if the limit is five before the draw, it might be ten after the draw. In Stud Poker, if the limit is five in the first four betting intervals, it is 10 in the final betting interval (and often ten whenever a player has a pair or better showing).

Pot Limit

Any bet or raise is limited to the number of chips in the pot at that time. This means that a player who raises may count as part of the pot the number of chips required for the player to call. If there are six chips in the pot, and a bet of four is made, the total is 10 chips; it requires four chips for the next player to call, making 14; and the player may then raise by 14 chips. But even when the pot limit is played, there should be some maximum limit, such as 50 chips.

Table Stakes

The limit for each player is the number of chips the player has in front of them. If the player has only 10 chips, they may bet no more than 10 and he may call any other player's bet to that extent. In table stakes, no player may withdraw chips from the table, or return chips to the banker, until they leave the game. A player may add to their stack, but only between the deal just completed and the beginning of the next deal.

Whangdoodles, or Roodles

In a fixed-limit game, it is often agreed that following any very good hand - a full house or better, for example - there will be one deal by each player of Jackpots, in which everyone antes double, and the betting limit is doubled for these deals as well.

Poverty Poker

A maximum limit is put on the number of chips any player may lose. Each takes out one stack at the start; if they lose that stack, the banker issues the player another, without charging for it, and in many cases, the player can get still a third stack free before dropping out of the game. (Some limit should be placed on the number of free stacks so that a player will have the incentive to play carefully.)

No Limit

In these sessions, the "sky's the limit," but such games are rarely played today.

Limits on Raises

In almost all games played today, there is a limit on the number of raises at each betting interval, and this limit is invariably three raises.

Draw & Stud Poker

The players should first decide what form of Poker they will play

The main forms of Poker are Draw Poker and Stud Poker. In Draw Poker, all the cards are dealt face down to the players. In Stud Poker, some of the cards are dealt face up as the betting progresses, so that all of the other players get to see a part of each player's hands.

Unless the host, or the rule of a club, has already established the game, the players should first decide what form of Poker they will play. Two factors should influence their decision: the number of players, and whether the group has only experienced players or has some inexperienced players. The following selections are recommended:

2, 3 or 4 players:

Stud Poker in any form. Usually, with so few players, only the very experienced play Draw Poker and they will often use a stripped deck, which is a pack with cards removed, such as all the deuces (twos) and treys (threes).

5—8 players: Any form of Poker, either Draw or Stud.

9 or 10 players: Five-card Stud Poker

More than 10 players: One of the games in which fewer than five cards are dealt, such as Three-Card Monte or Spit-in-the-Ocean. All of the Poker variations are described later in this chapter.

Another alternative with so many players is to simply form two tables and organize two separate games.

Dealer's Choice

When the Poker session is Dealer's Choice, each dealer has the privilege of naming the form of Poker to be played and to designate the ante, wild cards (if any), and the maximum limit of chips that can be wagered during each round. However, the dealer may not require one player to ante more than another. If a game such as Jackpots is selected and no one opens the betting, the same dealer deals again and everyone antes again.

Wild Cards

While most Poker purists choose to play with no wild cards, in many games, especially Dealer's Choice, various cards may be designated as wild. A wild card is specified by the holder to be a card of any rank or suit, such as a fifth queen, or the card needed to combine with the other four in a player's hand to form a straight or a flush. Wild cards in a Poker game add variety, and of course, they greatly increase the chances of getting a rare combination such as a full house or a straight flush. The usual choices for wild cards are as follows:

The

Note that most packs of cards include two jokers for use in such games as Canasta. Poker players are increasingly adding one or both jokers as wild cards.

The

This is the joker, but its wildness is limited: It counts as an ace; or as a card of any suit for making a flush; or as a card of any rank and suit for making a straight or straight flush.

Deuces

"Deuces Wild" is a popular form of Draw Poker. Every two is wild. Sometimes the joker is included as a fifth wild card. Note that the number of wild cards in a hand does not diminish it in anyway; thus, with deuces wild, five of a kind comprised of 10, 10, 2, 2, 2 (five 10s) beats 8, 8, 8, 8, 2 (five 8s).

One-Eyed

Cards

The king of diamonds and the jacks of spades and hearts show only one eye, whereas the other face cards all have two eyes. One-eyed jacks are sometimes designated as wild cards, but the king of diamonds is rarely selected to be wild.

Low Hole Card

In

Stud Poker, each player's lowest "hole" card (that is, the lowest card that is dealt face down and not seen by the other players) is wild. In Draw Poker, the wild card would be the lowest card in a player's hand. When such a card is designated, it means that every card of that rank in that player's hand is wild, but the fact that a certain card is wild in one player's hand does not make that same rank of card wild in other players' hands.

Laws and Ethics

In every game, a written code of Poker laws should be used as the final arbiter for settling all questions. No Poker laws are universally followed - there are many local customs and preferences - but the Poker laws on this site embrace the latest customs of the most expert games and are recommended for adoption. It is a tradition of Poker that any club or group of players may make special rules, called "house rules," to suit their personal preferences. Of course, any such house rules should be written down.

Time Limit

Before play begins, the players should set a time limit for when the game ends and stick to it. Violation of this principle could eventually turn pleasant sessions into unpleasant ones. Often when the time for quitting is approaching, the host or one of the players will say "three more deals" or "through Zane's deal," so that players will know how many deals are left and can gauge their strategies accordingly.

No dia mrjack.bet app download que Edmundo González foi arrancado da obscuridade e escolhido para enfrentar o líder autoritário mais antigo dos EUA, os técnicos estavam ocupados certificando-se de mrjack.bet app download casa não ter sido grampeada.

"Isso não estava mrjack.bet app download nossos planos", disse mrjack.bet app download esposa, Mercedes López de González sis-Amourdolz'areo" (em entrevista naquele dia), no apartamento deles na capital da Venezuela.

Há pouco tempo, o Sr. González era um diplomata aposentado e avô de quatro pessoas sem aspirações políticas; ele continuou ocupado escrevendo trabalhos acadêmicos mrjack.bet app download conferências para levar seus netos a cortes do cabelo ou aulas musicais: poucos na Venezuela sabiam seu nome

Agora, muitos venezuelanos depositaram suas esperanças nele para acabar com anos de governo repressivo enquanto desafia o presidente Nicolás Maduro que tem exercido seu poder desde 2013, mrjack.bet app download eleições marcada no final do mês.

O Sr. González está de repente a voltar para ter um emprego mrjack.bet app download tempo integral

"Duas vezes por dia eu tenho que limpar o telefone", disse ele mrjack.bet app download uma breve entrevista. "Eu apaguei quase 150 mensagens, vou para cama às 1h da manhã e até as 4 horas estou de volta aos meus pés trabalhando novamente... nunca imaginem isso."

Depois de anos com eleições fraudulentas e perseguição política, as pessoas na Venezuela anseiam por um retorno à democracia aprenderam a esperar desapontamento.

Uma coalizão de partidos opostos, a Mesa Redonda da Unidade Democrática (Democrata Unity Roundtable), vinha trabalhando para se unir atrás do único candidato que poderia representar um desafio viável ao Sr. Maduro mas seu governo colocou uma série dos obstáculos à frente dele e o presidente Nicolás Chávez foi forçado por muitos anos mrjack.bet app download meio aos protestos contra os democratas no país vizinho sionista na sexta-feira passada (19).

No final, González emergiu como candidato que o governo não iria procurar bloquear e quem a oposição apoiaria.

Ele aceitou o papel, mas amigos e colegas dizem que é um para quem ele nunca se preparou.

"Edmundo não é um homem que já teve ambições políticas", disse Phil Gunson, especialista mrjack.bet app download Venezuela do International Crisis Group de Caracas e amigo da Sra. González's."Ele está fazendo o seu dever".

Alguns especialistas dizem que seu baixo perfil pode dificultar a conquista de força entre os eleitores, particularmente fora da cidade do Caracas (capital dos EUA), onde informações vêm das mídias controladas pelo governo e é improvável dar muita cobertura à mrjack.bet app download campanha.

Gonzalez, ao contrário de outros líderes da oposição também não tem sido abertamente crítico do governo Maduro e seu histórico mrjack.bet app download direitos humanos. que levantou preocupações entre alguns analistas dizendo responsabilizar funcionários por abusos é crucial para restaurar o Estado-de direito no país "...

Em casa, no dia mrjack.bet app download que ele chegou à votação e González se recusou a falar longamente sobre as eleições.

O mais novo de três irmãos, o Sr. González nasceu mrjack.bet app download uma família modesta na pequena cidade da La Victoria a cerca 50 milhas oeste do Caracas e mrjack.bet app download mãe era professora escolar que desencorajava seu sonho infantil como diplomata chamando-o "uma profissão para os ricos", segundo Carolina Gnzalez (filha)

Indeterred, ele passou a estudar relações internacionais na Universidade Central da Venezuela. Na faculdade, ele era um estudante dedicado e mrjack.bet app download colega de classe Imelda Cisneros lembrou. Foi uma época politicamente tumultuante quando a ideologia comunista da extrema esquerda estava se tornando popular no campus com tensões altas”.

Mas González se tornou uma líder estudantil "com um enfoque muito calmo de reconciliação", disse ela.

"Ele queria ser diplomata", acrescentou Cisneros. Ele era muito claro sobre seu objetivo desde o início."

Ele ingressou no serviço estrangeiro pouco depois de se formar em 1970, com postagens na Bélgica, El Salvador e nos Estados Unidos. onde obteve um mestrado para assuntos internacionais pela American University in Washington (EUA).

Mais tarde, foi nomeado embaixador na Argélia e depois para a Argentina onde ficou destacado quando Hugo Chávez era eleito presidente em 1999. O Sr Chavez viria consolidar o poder sob uma bandeira de revolução inspirada no socialismo”.

González retornou à Venezuela em 2002 e logo se aposentou do serviço externo.

Em 2008, ele se tornou ativo em uma coalizão de partidos da oposição chamada Mesa Redonda Democrática Unida, aconselhando nos bastidores sobre questões das relações internacionais.

Ele se tornou presidente do conselho de administração da coalizão em 2014, disse Ramón Guillermo Avello.

Mas a maioria das pessoas, mesmo nos círculos políticos venezuelanos não sabia que ele tinha esse papel até em 2018 candidatura presidencial ser anunciada porque os líderes da oposição muitas vezes enfrentam perseguição.

Isso torna uma decisão arriscada para o Sr. González entrar no centro das atenções contra um incumbente empenhado em reter o poder”.

"Estou nervosa porque não sabemos se algo pode acontecer conosco", disse López de González.

Aqueles que conhecem o Sr. González dizem montar uma campanha presidencial não é algo a ser assumido de ânimo leve por ele mesmo, mas sim um desafio para os outros...”.

"Ele é um homem extremamente equilibrado, calmo e muito sério", disse Ramón José Medina que liderou a Mesa Redonda da Unidade Democrática até 2014 sendo amigo de González há décadas.

Maduro assinou um acordo com a oposição em outubro para tomar medidas rumo às eleições livres e justas, enquanto os Estados Unidos suspenderam temporariamente algumas sanções econômicas severas como gesto de boa vontade.

Dias depois, uma ex-legisladora nacional Maria Corina Machado venceu as eleições primárias com mais de 90% dos votos e a tornou numa ameaça significativa para Maduro.

Desde então, o governo Maduro tem levantado obstáculos para evitar que um sério desafiante chegue à votação.

Primeiro, a Suprema Corte do país desclassificou Machado em janeiro sobre o que os juízes alegaram serem irregularidades financeiras ocorridas quando ela era legisladora nacional - uma tática comum usada para manter concorrentes viáveis fora da votação.

No mês passado, o governo impediu uma coalizão de oposição da apresentação para um outro candidato preferido usando manobras eleitorais técnicas pouco antes do prazo final.

Apenas um político, Manuel Rosales que foi visto por analistas políticos como favorito pelo Sr. Maduro (apontado para o verde) teve permissão de se registrar e pareceu brevemente ter sido derrotado nos esforços para unificar o campo com a unificação do candidato

Mas, em uma surpresa a coalizão anunciou que o poder eleitoral nacional havia concedido-lhe um prolongamento e abriu caminho para González entrar oficialmente na corrida. Rosales se afastou do cargo de presidente da federação federal por trás dele mesmo com apoio ao seu colega González!

A carreira de González como "buscador do consenso" o ajudou a unir os opositores, disse Gunson.

"Ele é alguém aceitável para muitas pessoas diferentes", acrescentou. E ele não ofende

Essas qualidades também podem tornar mais provável que o governo Maduro ceda poder a ele se ganhar, disse Tamara Taraciuk Broner.

Segundo especialistas, Maduro pode estar disposto a conceder derrota se lhe for concedida uma anistia por abusos de direitos humanos e seu partido tiver um papel contínuo no sistema político do país.

Neste sentido, González tem sido mais conciliador do que outros candidatos. Machado disse a Maduro e membros de mrjack.bet app download administração devem ser responsabilizados criminalmente por corrupção ou abusos dos direitos humanos ”.

González disse mrjack.bet app download entrevistas que está aberto a conversar com o governo Maduro para garantir uma transferência suave de poder.

"Seu principal desafio será manter esse equilíbrio entre a manutenção da oposição na linha por trás de uma candidatura unificada e garantir que mrjack.bet app download candidata não represente um risco insuportável para o regime", disse Taraciuk Broner.

Uma pesquisa já mostra que ele derrotou Maduro, embora a enquete também mostre o fato de cerca do terço dos entrevistados dizer não ter certeza mrjack.bet app download quem votariam e 20% afirmarem nunca terem votados.

Aveledo disse que estava esperançoso de González poder conquistar os venezuelanos nas próximas semanas.

"Finalmente, alguém que fala com serenidade e moderação pensa mrjack.bet app download problemas ou soluções sem gritar", disse ele.
